Wellogic, PatientKeeper Go Mobile

(April 16, 2002) Wellogic, a Cambridge, Mass.-based vendor of open architecture health care information technology, and PatientKeeper Inc., a Brighton, Mass.-based vendor of integrated mobile applications, have jointly developed mobile applications for inpatient settings at small and medium sized hospitals. PatientKeeper will use Wellogic's clinical results browser, master patient index and clinical data repository with its Mobilizer platform, which includes mobile charge capture, lab results, clinical problem tracking, medication, vitals, allergy and other applications.
